AXIS CLAIM CAPTURE OF BRITISH STRONGHOLD OF MATRUH

Rommel Pressing Eastward Drive to Rich Valley of Nile

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH
Associated Press War Editor

The Axis announced today that its forces in Egypt captured Matruh this morning, thus reducing the first of the defense strongholds on the road to the rich valley of the Nile, the naval base of Alexandria and the Suez Canal—and the British did not deny the claim.

But indications were that the Allied forces making up the Eighth British Army had withdrawn to take another stand in desperate search for positions from which the Axis juggernaut could be halted after its impairment in isolated engagements and reinforcement of the defense.

The tactics seemed to call for avoidance of a full-scale clash with Field Marshal Rommel's columns so long as the defenders stood under the handicap of inferiority in tanks.

NEW BLOW IS REPORTED IN KWISK SECTOR

Germans Intensify Conflict 280 Miles South of Soviet Capital of Moscow

RAILWAY IS MENACED

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, June 29.—(P)—Probing the long, resilient Russian line for a weakness, the Germans were smashing out from Kursk, about 280 miles south of Moscow, today in a new drive presumably aimed at cutting the vital railway connecting the southern and central fronts.

The new offensive—the fourth started by the Germans this spring—came as the battered and weary Soviet defenders of Sevastopol fought off a succession of brutal Axis blows at the Black Sea fortress, now under attack for the 25th day. Other Red army units were reported to be fighting fiercely in the Kharkov region and winning back some lost ground, front dispatches said.

Today's mid-day Soviet communiqué gave no details of the fighting east of Kursk, saying merely that during the night "in the Kursk and Sevastopol directions our troops engaged the enemy in battle."

The new blow in the Kursk sector came Sunday and the Russians said only that the Germans "had gone over to the offensive" there. The drive was pointed directly at Voronezh, 120 miles to the east, an important railway center 300 miles south of Moscow and about 400 miles north of Rostov, the gate to the Caucasus now held by the Russians.

The Russian winter offensive had failed to dislodge the Germans from Kursk and the Russian line in this region runs roughly north and south to the east of Kharkov, Kursk and Orel.

JULY QUOTA IN BOND SALE IS $81,050,000

Washington, July 29.—(P)—New York state will be asked to buy $171,596,000 of war bonds in July, slightly more than one-sixth of the national quota of $1,000,000,000. Secretary Morgenthau announced today. Pennsylvania's quota is $81,050,000.

The New York goal for the month is more than double the $84,825,000 set for Illinois, which has the second largest quota. The smallest July quota is Nevada's $1,038,000.

Sinking of Three More Small Merchant Ships is Reported

By the Associated Press
Three more small merchant ships, a Norwegian, a Yugoslavian and an American, have been sunk in the Atlantic, the navy announced today, bringing the unofficial Associated Press toll of western Atlantic sinkings since Pearl Harbor to 323.

The Norwegian vessel went down first May 14 off the northern coast of South America, survivors at a Gulf coast port said. With a loss of two of the crew of 23, the survivors were picked up 23 miles away by the Yugoslavian ship which was sunk the following day. Two out of 41 crew members were lost. Survivors of both ships had reached the United States.

Airfields and Railway Objectives in Northern France Bombed

BREMEN ALSO VISITED

London, June 29.—(P)—The German submarine base at St. Nazaire on the occupied French coast was attacked sharply last night by RAF raiders in a follow-up to the devastating Saturday night assault on the port of Bremen, where many of the undersea raiders are constructed.

British fighter planes also blasted German airfields and railway objectives in northern France during the night, the air ministry said. Loss of one plane was acknowledged.

Two Canadian pilots attached to a Hurricane bomber squadron which participated in the forays against the occupied coast were reported to have damaged a heavily-escorted enemy merchant ship in a low-level attack, leaving the vessel stationary and heeling over at a 45-degree angle.

The Saturday night assault on Bremen was the second raid on that city in three nights, and was reported to have left the port—German's second largest—a mass of charred ruins.

PHILADELPHIA MAN NEW HEAD OF V. F. W.

Uniontown, June 29.—(P)—A resolution urging that the state unemployment compensation law be amended to provide benefits for members of the armed forces unable to get work at the close of the war was adopted by the Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars, whose annual convention here closed Saturday night.

The veterans elected William H. Bechtel, Jr., of Philadelphia, as department commander. Mrs. Angelica Johnston, Erie, was chosen president of the V. F. W. Auxiliary.

Rationing To Be Extended

Washington, June 29.—(P)—The house appropriations committee and Price Administrator Leon Henderson predicted today that heavy demands on two groups of basic cost of living items would mean "a general rationing program for the entire country" before the end of the year.

"It would be folly to name any specific items which are likely to be rationed," the committee said in a report on a $1,810,487,615 defense appropriation bill. "To do so would cause immediate runs on existing stocks and bring about rationing earlier than would ordinarily be necessary."

Henderson told the committee during hearings on the bill that there would be a need for rationing of 15 groups of major items and the committee said that several were "two of the basic cost of living groups, which means" a general rationing program.

Expected That Bands Will Be On Hand Both Morning and Evening

MORE ENLISTMENTS

Ninety-one men will be in the contingent which leaves Warren tomorrow morning for their final physical examinations and possible induction into the U. S. Army. These men will include 43 from Local Board No. 1 and 48 from Local Board No. 2.

Members of the special committee in charge of arranging farewells for the departing Selective Service groups reported today that everything is in readiness for giving the men in tomorrow's contingent a rousing send-off.

Before the group leaves tomorrow morning, each man will be presented with a carton of cigarettes. Each will also be given a postal card to be returned to the Times-Mirror when the selectee arrives at his permanent training camp. Upon receipt of the card, the Times-Mirror will be sent to the inductee for a six-months period.

It is expected that bands will be on hand, both in the morning when the selectees leave for their final examinations and in the evening when they pass through here en route to their reception center. Special arrangements are being made (Turn to Page Nine)

President's Aid Sought In C. C. C. Fight

By JACK BELL

Washington, June 29.—(P)—President Roosevelt's aid was sought today in an effort to save the Civilian Conservation Corps from extinction as congress worked feverishly to complete action on several important appropriation bills before the end of the fiscal year tomorrow at midnight.

Practically assured of quick senate approval was a $42,520,000 military supply bill, but last minute haggling was in prospect over a $75,529,000 fund for the CCC, and supporters had almost given up hope of enacting the $680,000,000 farm appropriations measure before the deadline.

The CCC allotment, approved by the senate when Vice President Wallace cast the deciding vote to break a 32 to 32 tie, was included in a $1,157,000,000 measure to supply funds for the labor department and the social security administration for the forthcoming year.

With a joint senate-house conference committee scheduled to meet late today, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said he hoped some expression would be forthcoming from President Roosevelt in support of the senate's action in voting the CCC funds previously rejected by the house, which had ordered the depression-born agency liquidated. Nelson Report Is Optimistic

Washington, June 29.—(P)—Congress received an optimistic report from Donald M. Nelson today that plane, tank and ship objectives will be met, but that the outlook for the consumer "is very bad."

The chief of the War Production Board made those statements in reviewing the WPB's work before a house appropriations subcommittee.

"I believe that we are over the hump," he said, "and from now on it becomes a question of improvement in process, of getting better distribution of raw materials and seeing that production is attuned to strategy."

Nelson told the subcommittee that President Roosevelt's goal of 18,000,000 tons of shipping would be met, and added, "we can beat it, if we can get the steel plate."

He said he was "certain we will meet the tank objective."

The government currently is setting up facilities to meet the quota of 125,000 planes next year, he said.

Defeat of Japanese Invasion Fleet Off Midway is Even Worse Than First Reported

TEN SHIPS ARE SUNK

BY EUGENE BURNS

Pearl Harbor, T. H., June 29.—(P)—The defeat of the Japanese invasion fleet off Midway island was even worse than first reported.

The navy, waiting until it had rounded up all the reports and checked them, flatly wrote off these Japanese losses:

The aircraft carrier Akagi, 26,900 tons.

The aircraft carrier Kaga, 26,900 tons.

The aircraft carrier Soryu, 10,050 tons.

The aircraft carrier Kiryu, 10,050 tons.

Two heavy cruisers, probably the 8,500-ton Mogami and the 8,500-ton Mikuma.

Three destroyers and a cargo or transport vessel.

Unofficial estimates placed the probable Japanese death list at 18,000 or more.

The navy's tally added up to at least 10 ships sent to the bottom in the big sea-air battle earlier this month off Midway. The definite report of four carriers sunk contrasted with tentative reports on June 10 of "two and possibly three." The same reports listed only one other Japanese ship as definitely sunk, a destroyer.

The navy, summarizing the losses in a communiqué issued yesterday, said that a fourth destroyer very probably was sunk and that considerable damage was wrought on two or three heavy cruisers, three or four other heavy transports, a light cruiser and four transport or cargo vessels. Another transport or cargo ship was listed as probably sunk.

That meant 10 ships known sunk, two believed sunk and between 10 and 12 damaged.

The carrier losses included the destruction of 275 Japanese planes and their crews.

An Associated Press staff man who witnesses some of the Midway battle from a cruiser reported later that the Japanese fleet included five carriers. So only one of them got away.

On the other side of the ledger, the United States has admitted the loss of one destroyer and damage to an aircraft carrier.

Rubber Drive Is Extended For Ten Days

Washington, June 29.—(P)—President Roosevelt extended the rubber collection drive today for an additional ten days because collections through Saturday had brought in a disappointing total of 219,000 tons.

Originally scheduled to have ended at midnight tomorrow, the campaign now will continue through July 10.

The continuation was ordered upon the recommendation of Secretary Ickes, in his capacity as petroleum coordinator, and William R. Boyd, Jr., chairman of the Petroleum Industry War Council.

UNCLE SAME DONATES

Washington, June 29.—(P)—As Secretary Ickes remarked at the White House today that he thought a lot of rubber for the scrap collection could be found in public buildings, a reporter pointed out a heavy rubber mat in the entry to the executive office and suggested he take it with him.

Stooping over, and with a bit of help from onlookers, Ickes rolled up the heavy mat called his chauffeur, and it was bundled into the front seat of an official limousine. The secretary said it would be delivered to the nearest filling station.

The total of 219,000 tons was exclusive of rubber turned in since Saturday and also of that in the hands of some 20,000 junk dealers in the country. Presidential Secretary Early said. It compares with a total of 100,438 tons collected during the first six days of the campaign, which began June 5.

Ickes told reporters that he thought part of the lack of success of the scrap rubber campaign was due to hoarding, and he said there might even be people in office who were hoarding.

Local workers, volunteer firemen and neighbors tried vainly to rescue the family.

Billion Dollar Supply Bill Is Sent to House

Appropriations Committee Fires Another Financial Salvo in War Program

FOR MANY AGENCIES

Washington, June 29.—(P)—The house appropriations committee fired another financial salvo in the war program today, sending to the floor a $1,810,487,615 supply bill which it estimated would boost to approximately $228,000,000,000 the amount projected for national defense since June 1940.

The new bill carries funds for almost a score of war agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1. Most of them have been operating in the past on emergency allocations.

While more than one-half the total, $1,100,000,000, is for the war shipping administration, a $75,000,000 item for Leon Henderson's Office of Price Administration was expected to be the only part of the bill over which a controversy of any consequence would develop.

The committee more than halved Henderson's original request and shaved $86,000,000 from the budget bureau's recommendation. To make certain the $75,000,000 would be all that Henderson's agency would have to spend during the year, the committee wrote into the bill a restriction that the OPA funds "shall not be augmented by allocations or transfers of funds from any other appropriation."

The OPA item was almost certain to bring into the open the resentment that has been smoldering in some congressional quarters since Henderson began appointing state administrators without (Turn to Page Nine)

TOT FOUND WANDERING ALONG LONELY ROAD

Central City, June 29.—(P)—Police today were seeking the parents of a blonde, well-dressed little girl, three or four years old, who was found walking on a lonely road in the Allegheny mountains about six miles from this Somerset county town last night.

She said her first name was Thelma, but she didn't know her surname. However, she related that "my daddy has chickens and a green car."

Thelma said she wanted her "mommy and daddy" and that she was very tired, having been "walking a long time." She weighs about 35 pounds and wears a blue dress ornamented with red flowers.

She spent the night at the home of Roy Miller, a farmer, who found her.

Gasoline Drought Along the Eastern Seaboard is Acute

By the Associated Press
The price of gasoline went up 2 1/2 cents a gallon along the eastern seaboard today, but there were few stations open where it could be bought at any figure.

More and more dealers, their supplies exhausted, were forced to turn away motorists by the hundreds of thousands over the weekend as the gas-drought became acute.

In New York City, Mayor F. H. La Guardia attacked as "discriminatory and unfair" the price jump, which, together with 2-cent-a-gallon increases for range oil, kerosene and certain other fuel

EIGHT ENEMY AGENTS ARE ROUNDED UP

Saboteurs Apprehended by Government Officials Carry $170,000 "Pay-off Money"

ACCOMPLICES SOUGHT

New York, June 29.—(P)—Seizure of "several contacts and associates" of the band of eight Nazi spy-saboteurs landed by U-boats on the east coast was announced last night by the FBI, which promised more arrests within a few days.

New developments in the startling case of the eight German agents submarine-borne to Long Island and Florida beaches with explosives intended to wreck vital American industries included the discovery of an additional cache of $20,000, increasing the total of "pay-off money" carried by the saboteurs to $170,000.

Neither the number nor the names of the persons arrested as aides of the invading saboteurs were disclosed by Earl J. Connelley, assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, in announcing the new roundup 24 hours after Hoover had disclosed the capture of the agents bent on a two-year campaign of destruction against the American war effort.

Some arrests of the suspected accomplices were made in Chicago, and some here. Those here were believed to have been made from among a group of German people living on Long Island not far from the deserted beach at Amagansett, where the first group of four Nazi terrorists landed June 13.

Hoover gave the names of those in this group as George John Dasch, 39, leader; Ernest Peter Burger, 36, who in 1931 was a private in the Michigan National Guard; Heinrich Harb Heinck, 55, and Robert Quinn, 24.

They came ashore in a rubber boat with their store of money and explosives, together with lists of key railroad centers, bridges and war plants which Hoover said they planned to blow up. They also were equipped with forged selective service and social security cards, Hoover said.

Similarly equipped was the group of four which landed at Ponte Verda Beach near Jacksonville, Fla., June 17, Hoover said, listing these as Edward John Kerling, 33, group leader; Herbert Haupt, 22; Werner Thiel, 35, and Hermann Neubauer, 32.

The FBI did not reveal how the dynamites were caught. An unofficial report was that a lone unarmed coast guardman on foot patrol along Amagansett Beach gave the alarm resulting in their seizure.

Hoover said that the enemy agents admitted listing for destruction these warplants, waterways, railroads and bridges.

The Aluminum Corporation of America's plants at Alcoa, Tenn., Massena, N. Y., and East St. Louis, Ill.; The Cryolite Plant at Philadelphia, manufacturing light metals; The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad and industrial areas; Hell Gate Bridge, New York City; the Pennsylvania Railroad terminal at Newark, N. J., and all bridges on which transportation was carried in the New York area.

Hoover said the agents' other objectives were the inland waterways systems, a series of canal locks on the Ohio river near Cincinnati, the New York City water supply system, conduits in Westchester county, hydraulic plants at Niagara Falls, and railroad tracks on the famous Horseshoe curve (Turn to Page Nine)

Stores Will Remain Open All Day Wed.

At a meeting Saturday morning of the Retail Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided that stores would remain open all day on Wednesday of this week instead of closing at 1 p. m. as is the summer custom. This is due to the fact that stores will be closed all day Saturday, July 4. Most stores will also remain open until 9 p. m. on Friday, as previously announced.

Each merchant who has been participating in the Wednesday closing will be notified by telephone of the decision of the Committee, reached after a number of requests had been received from individual stores. It is pointed out that no individual store is obliged to remain open if it wishes to close, but it is believed a majority will do so.

Next week stores will return to their policy of closing Wednesday at 1 p. m. during July and August. Five merchants joined the list of Wednesday afternoon closers last week, and it is predicted that before long the community will be not far from 100% in this plan.

TAKING THE IF OUT OF LIFE

From the time of Hippocrates—the Greek physician who lived about 400 B. C. until a comparatively short time ago, the physician devoted practically all his time to curing disease AFTER it had developed.

More and more doctors are practicing Preventive Medicine, which is nothing more nor less than the PREVENTION OF DISEASE. As knowledge of definite causes increases, disease falls back before the advance of scientific medicine.

What has become of Smallpox, which was for centuries the scourge of the world? Vaccination is practically wiping it out. What has become of those great fatal epidemics of Yellow Fever and Diphtheria? Scientific medicine has all but eliminated the one, and will gradually eliminate the other as the public co-operates more fully toward prevention.

More recent victories of Scientific Medicine in the fight against sickness are discovery of Insulin for control of diabetes and discovery of liver and ventricular for pernicious anemia. Many victories remain to be won, but, as you read this, scientific men of medicine are laboring to conquer those yet unconquered diseases.

Questions And Answers For Price Ceilings Are Given

The cost of shoe shines, automobile repairs, piano tuning, funerals and all other consumer services will be limited beginning July 1 to the highest levels charged in March.

The Office of Price Administration has issued price ceiling regulations that will affect 1,000,000 establishments doing an annual business of $5,000,000. It supplements the price control order of April 28 covering consumer goods. Exempted from the new regulations are professional services, such as those performed by physicians, dentists, lawyers and barbers.

The following questions and answers explain the scope of the new order:

Q. What is a consumer service?

A. A consumer service under the regulation is a service rendered in connection with a commodity for the ultimate consumer such as the housewife, the motorist or the farmer.

Q. What are examples of consumer services?

A. Laundry, dry-cleaning and shoe repairs are some of the most common services performed for consumers. Others are the lubrication or repair of a private passenger car, the developing and printing of amateur films, the repair and servicing of home made radio sets and electrical appliances, and the sharpening of household knives and scissors.

Q. Is the charge made by a parking lot covered by the regulation?

A. Yes, an automobile is a commodity and the storage of a commodity is therefore under the price ceiling.

Q. What are the maximum prices on consumer services?

A. The highest prices which the supplier of the service charged in March 1942.

Q. Are prices on services standardized by this regulation?

A. No, the regulation simply places a ceiling for each establishment at the highest price it charged for a service in March 1942. But ceiling prices will vary from shop to shop just as uncontrolled prices varied in March.

Q. May prices be charged below the ceiling?

A. Yes, the regulation does no more than place a top limit beyond which prices cannot go.

Q. Some members of a chain of shoe-repair shops during March made a special rate of 75 cents for half-soles men's shoes. Other members of the chain held to the customary price of $1.00. What is the ceiling price in these establishments?

A. The ceiling price has nothing to do with the ownership of the store or service business. The ceiling price is determined for each separate establishment on the basis of the highest price which it charged for a service supplied during March. For any stores which cut the price to 75 cents during the entire month the ceiling is 75 cents. Or those which sold as high as $1.00 the ceiling is $1.00.

Q. Does the consumer service price regulation put a ceiling on charges for such personal services as haircuts and manicures?

A. No, the definition of "service" in the consumer service price regulation is limited to those rendered in connection with a commodity.

Q. Are there any other services which are not covered by the regulation?

A. Yes, in addition a list is incorporated which specifically excludes a variety of other services, including professional services.

Q. What about the charges of a garage for the repair of a private automobile? Is there a ceiling on the rate for a standard repair job, such as a motor tune-up?

A. Yes, if the garage in March made a standard charge of, for example, $3 for a motor tune-up, that is the highest price the garage may charge for a motor tune-up after July 1. If it is a commercial vehicle, the general maximum price regulation applies and sets the ceiling also at highest March levels.

Q. What control is there over the price if the service establishment did not charge a flat price for a consumer service?

A. In this instance the ceiling is determined by the pricing method, rates and charges adopted in March 1942.

Q. Is any provision made for determining the ceiling prices on seasonal services (such as the sharpening of ice skates) which were not generally rendered during March?

A. Yes, for such services the maximum charge is the highest charge made during the last season, plus an adjustment for the percentage increase in the cost of living between the time of the last service and March, 1942. A table of living costs rises is included in the consumer service regulation.

Q. A tennis racket shop made a practice of granting a 10 per cent discount on rackets restringing for a college team. This discount was in effect in March. Must it be continued?

A. Yes, a seller may change his customary allowances and price differentials only if the change reduces the selling price.

Q. Is any provision made to take care of cases of substantial hardship?

A. Yes, the Office of Price Administration has set up machinery by which a person may apply for relief.

Q. Must a service establishment post any ceiling prices in a manner similar to the "cost-of-living" posting rules of the general maximum price regulation?

A. No, the regulation does not require any service establishment to display a list of the ceiling prices.

Q. But does not the consumer service establishment have to make some list or report of its ceiling prices?

A. Yes, every person supplying a consumer service over which this regulation sets a price ceiling must prepare by September 1 a complete list of the highest prices he charged for all service he supplied during March for which prices were regularly quoted in that month. This report must also show any pricing method regularly used in March, and all customary allowances and discounts.

Q. What are the provisions about licenses?

A. Every person selling a consumer service is automatically licensed under this regulation, and every new seller automatically is licensed. There is no certificate or other actual license, but the seller

Q. What is the purpose of the license?

A. It is a method of enforcement. If a seller, after a warning from OPA, violates the regulation, a court of proper jurisdiction may suspend the license for as long as 12 months. Without a license it is illegal to sell services which are under this regulation.

Massed Band Program Here This Evening

Director Harry A. Summers has chosen a varied program for the first of a series of monthly summer concerts to be presented by massed bands of the community and invites all interested to be present on the Beatty school lawn at 7:30 this evening.

The School Music Boosters' Club is arranging for adequate bleachers and assisting in other arrangements for the concert, which inaugurates a new music project that will extend throughout the summer and will include band, orchestral and vocal presentations. Should weather conditions interfere with plans for the outdoor concert tonight, the musicians will move indoors to the school gym and the program will go on as planned.

Opening with the National anthem, the program will be divided into three parts. In the first will be these band numbers: The Glorious Tenth March, by Davenport; A Night in June, by King; The Donkey Serenade from "The Firefly", Friml-Stothart; Simplicity, Lee.

Raymond Marti, trombone soloist, will be heard in the second, playing a Seitz arrangement of Lockhart's The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise.

Numbers in the third and last group will be M. L. Lake's overture arrangement of Over There; El Capitán March, by Sousa; Star Dust, by Carmichael; Coming Round the Mountain, Fillmore; B. Pluribus Unum, Jewell.

Director Summers reminds all musicians who wish to play in the new Warren Symphony that they must be on hand for rehearsal Tuesday night at Beatty school in preparation for their first concert early in July.

CHARACTERISTICS

A review of the characteristics of the people of the world revealed that Americans are the most progressive; English are the most conservative; Chinese, most mysterious; Australians, most sporting; Hungarians, most musical; Irish, most religious; Italians, most romantic; and Germans, most methodical.

The nation-wide effort of USO, the Red Cross, and the American Library Association to collect ten million books for men in the country's armed services has completely succeeded, it was announced this past week. More than one million of these books were contributed by citizens of Pennsylvania, which ranked second to New York State in the number of books donated.

It would cost $26,000,000,000 to travel to the nearest star, with a fare of only 1 cent a mile.

Q. What is the purpose of the license?

A. It is a method of enforcement. If a seller, after a warning from OPA, violates the regulation, a court of proper jurisdiction may suspend the license for as long as 12 months. Without a license it is illegal to sell services which are under this regulation.

MOOSE MEETING

The regular meeting of Warren Lodge of Moose will be held on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. After the business session, motion pictures of the convention parade in technicolor will be shown. The ladies are invited to witness the pictures. Following this program a lunch will be served by the committee.

RELIEF ROLLS

Direct relief rolls in Warren county showed an increase of one case during the week ending June 20, according to information from Howard L. Russell, state secretary of public assistance. This brought the total number of cases in the county to 37, representing 45 per cent. Cost direct relief during the week was $101.89. In the state there was a total of 43,032 cases representing 69,165 persons during the week. Relief grants in the state totaled $208,952.26.

One more day to snap the Japs with rubber! Remember when you were a kid at the smart age, you used to like to snap people on the elbow with a rubber band? You can snap the little yellowbellies with rubber of all kinds right now, to say nothing of Herr Hitler's marching morons. American has got to lick those boys—both the yellow lads and the loose-jawed Huns. Rubber will help. Will you help with rubber? There's just one more day! Tomorrow! Tomorrow! Tomorrow! At midnight the rubber drive comes to an official end. Have you done your share? Have you combed your attic and your basement? Have you penetrated to the deepest recesses of your garage? Have you given all? Or have you held back? You have one more chance—tomorrow—to get that rubber to your nearest service station! How about it?

We have been asked by the Consumer Division of the OPA to convey the following instructions: If you have USABLE—remember, USABLE—rubber overshoes and galoshes, do NOT turn them in in the scrap drive. No matter whether they are complete pairs or odd singles, keep them for the present. A permanent exchange will soon be set up by the above organization for the purpose of pooling such articles so that they may be supplied where needed to the public. This is in line with the President's policy of conserving usable goods.

How's the rubber campaign going in Warren County to date? Well, from 20 to 25 tons are already in the central collection depot. From 15 to 20 tons more are waiting at the service stations for collection. It is expected that from 40 to 50 tons will be the final total of the drive. However, if tomorrow, the last day, should prove unusually productive, the total may mount as high as 60 tons. These figures compare favorably with those of adjoining counties and those of the State as a whole. But don't forget that much hinges on the last day. And that's tomorrow! Let's rub it in—with rubber!

HITLER ON THE SPOT

We have pointed out that the United Nations' current military setbacks are no more than inevitable incidents in the process of beating an enemy who, not long ago, was supposed to be invincible.

Here are some further thoughts which are not wishful thinking. By keeping them firmly in mind, we can maintain a sane perspective.

The United States is the greatest industrial nation in the world. The resources of the United Nations, in materials and plant, infinitely surpass anything to which the Axis has access.

For that reason, as of today, we cannot lose this war.

We could have lost a few months ago. We should, in all logic, have lost in the autumn of 1939 and the spring of 1940. Then the United States was asleep. Britain had just awakened, to find herself naked and unarmed in front of a murderous maniac with every conceivable weapon at his command.

We might easily have lost in 1941, if brave Serbia had not ruined Hitler's schedule and Russia had not refused to be beaten.

When Hitler did not win in 1940 or 1941, he gave us an opportunity to retrieve ourselves.

Up to late last year, all we possessed was potential power, unusable against Hitler. It was like a safe fence, a long way off, with a mad bull chasing us through a pasture. The fence would stop the bull, but how could we reach it before we were gored to death?

Then the bull permitted himself to be diverted. Hitler stopped to polish off Russia, and caught a tartar. We kept racing toward the fence—toward building the armies and armaments which would make us, and not Hitler, invincible.

Now we know we can make the fence. We're not out of danger. We may yet stumble and fall. But if we do, we can blame only ourselves.

In 1940, General Marshall told us frankly we should have to spend 100 billion dollars to put our military might on a parity with Hitler's. Thus far we've spent less than 35 billions. Meanwhile Japan's entrance has raised the anti. We may have yet to spend another 100 billions.

We're pouring out war material at the rate of four billion dollars' worth a month, while Hitler fiddles in front of Moscow and daren't stop.

We won't beat Hitler this year. He can't beat us after this year. Therefore he is putting everything he has into a knockout attempt. He is hurting us. But while he grows weak, we grow strong.

ADVICE TO SWIMMERS

In announcing that there will be no life guard service available this year to protect swimmers at water recreation areas on Allegheny National Forest, Supervisor R. F. Hemingway, of the local U. S. Forestry office, calls attention to swimming rules worked out jointly by U. S. Forest Service and the Water Safety Division of the American Red Cross. These regulations should be studied by every person who enjoys this popular sport, whether it be at Twin Lakes, Loleta or any other public bathing beach. Close adherence to the following may help to avoid drowning tragedies which occur all too often during the summer season:

To guard your safety and that of others:
Do not swim alone. Every swimmer needs a water buddy to help him or give the alarm in case of accident.
Avoid long swims after a season of inactivity. Train gradually.
After eating, wait at least 2 hours before swimming to avoid dangerous stomach cramps.
Life-saving equipment is provided at this area. Use it emergencies.
Do not swim after dark. Life boats and other life-saving equipment will be looked at dusk to be sure they are in place in the morning.
In case of accident, go or send someone to notify the Recreation Area Administrator.
The prone pressure method is the most effective means of reviving a drowning person. Do not wait for a doctor or a machine. Go to work at once.
Picnicking on the beach is forbidden. Glass or other material that might cause injuries should not be brought onto the beach.
Do not swim during a thunder storm. There is considerable danger from electrocution due to lightning.
In attempting to rescue a drowning person always use a boat — or a life buoy, plank, pole, or the like if no boat is at hand. Attempt a swimming rescue only when none of these means is available, and when sure of your own ability.
No dogs will be allowed on the beach or in the swimming areas. Pushing and all forms of rough play creating hazards to human safety are prohibited.
For the protection of public health, persons infected with skin diseases shall not enter the water.
Do not swim beyond the log boom.
Observe a safe and sane code of conduct.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There's a Scot novelist in town who has a stepson only 13 years younger than himself. His name is James Ronald. He adopted the boy out of a London slum. The kid is now in the army and was evacuated from Dunkirk. The kid is also married and has a son of his own, which makes Ronald a grand daddy at 37. He's very proud of the boy and dedicated his newest novel, "Old Soldiers Never Die," to him.

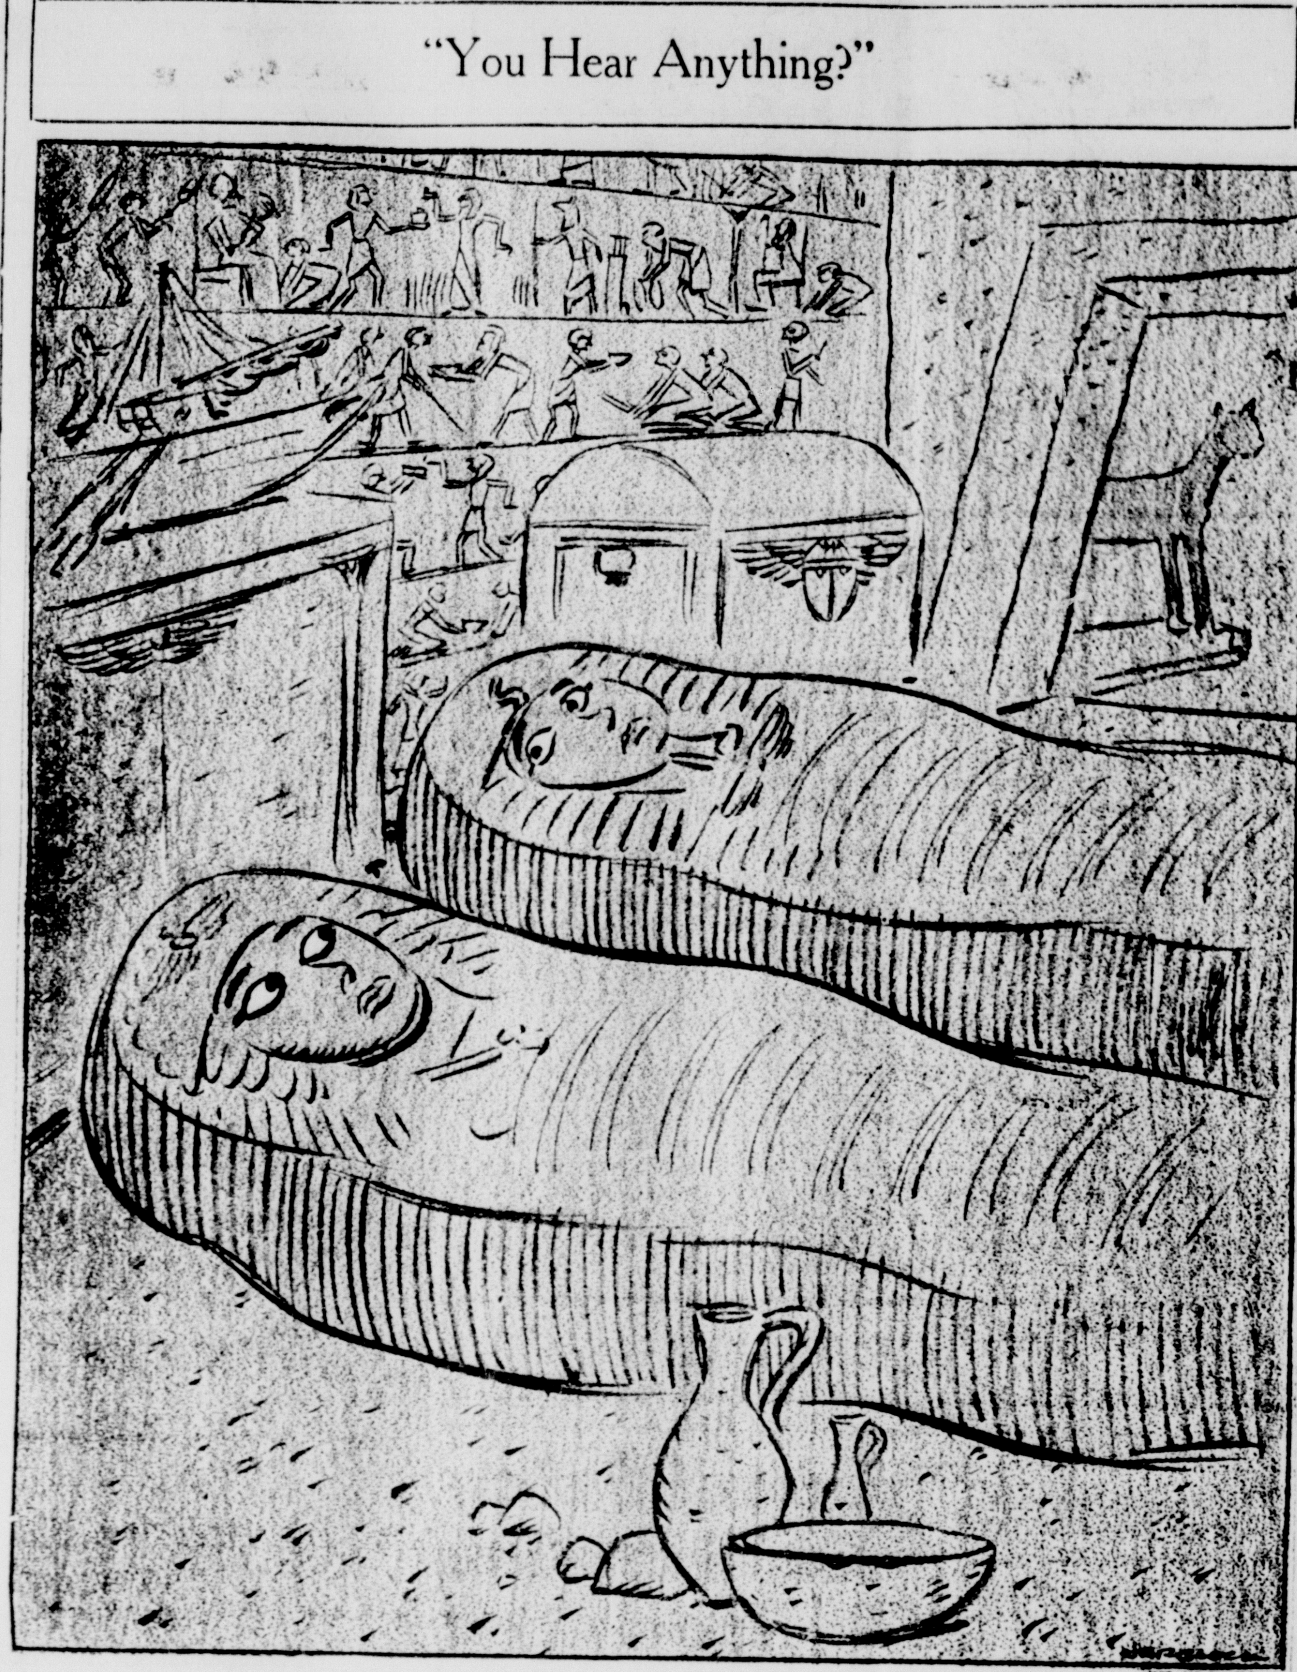

I first met James Ronald in the lobby of the Algonquin over a glass of claret. He weighs 210 pounds but doesn't look it. He wears shell-rim glasses and has an infectious grin. He's temporarily a semi-invalid, having been cracked up in a motor accident. He could make a living playing bridge if he didn't prefer to write novels. He lives in Connecticut, which, he says, has the same kind of climate as Scotland, and even looks about like Scotland. Ronald himself is a product of Glasgow, but he has worked on dirt roads out of Chicago, washed dishes in London, driven a hack, organized volunteer ambulance posts (out of reclaimed laundry vans) and written short stories and novels, some of which have been turned into American movies. One of his novels, "They Can't Hang Me," turned up as a movie in this country under the title of "The Witness Vanishes," with Wendy Barry and Edmund Lowe. He still feels that "They Can't Hang Me" was a better title than "The Witness Vanishes."

WHEN I saw Ronald he was feeling pretty good. He had just passed Scribner's Fifth Avenue, and their entire show-window had been given over to a display of "Old Soldiers Never Die." "It was pop-eyed," he said. "It was corny of me, no doubt, but I stood out there and stared at the window like an actor seeing his name in lights for the first time."

Another thing that made Ronald feel good was the enthusiasm of C. Aubrey Smith for the role of Aubrey left for Hollywood with a copy of the book under his arm. He read it enroute to the coast and wired his agent to get it for him. "Old Soldiers Never Die" is the story of a General who has fought all over the globe but who finds himself too old to take an active part in the current war. He winds up by winning a civilian's medal for valor.

RONALD doesn't know how long he will remain in the country. He has a younger brother in the army, and a sister who drives trucks in the army transport service. After Scotland was bombed pretty heavily, during the first part of the war, James asked his mother if the noise wasn't pretty terrible at night, what with the crashing buildings and exploding shells. "Yes," she replied "but then, fortunately, I like to read in bed."

During the past winter more than two and a quarter million service men have witnessed USO-Camp Shows, Inc. entertainments in the 250 Army camps and Naval training stations. In all, 3,810 performances were given by traveling USO-Camp Shows troops, and of these 204 were given in military hospitals. Since March 8, 1942, these performances of USO-Camp Shows, Inc. have been given free to service men. Before that date War Department regulations obligated USO to make a small administration charge to these entertainments.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital can keep a secret.

Rumors run rife. Tales are told over the place. But put the press, radio, government officials and that portion of the general public in the know on their honor to keep a military secret until such time as it should be released, and the light lips in this democracy make the totalitarians, constantly under the threat of death for talking too much, seem like a bunch of garrulous back-fence tattlers.

I'm talking about the "mystery" visit to Washington of that No. 2 man in the Soviet government, Vyacheslav Mikhailovich Molotov.

HIS week visit here was nobody's secret—except America's. The giant Russian bomber in which he and his party came flew over New York and landed there. It flew over Washington and landed here.

He was four hours earlier than expected and the State Department and White House went into a tizzy to make connections at the airport. Once arrived in all that hustle and bustle, Molotov calmly took daily constitutional on the White House grounds. Once he inadvertently popped up in front of newsmen cameramen, waiting for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. He went off the reservation far enough to buy a bag of peanuts from Steve Vasilakos, the White House corner vendor.

When it was all over, the Office of Censorship commended the press and radio, mentioning that in all the United States only one paper had even hinted at this on-your-honor secret.

This recapitulation is important because it demonstrates how the kind of wartime censorship we have can work when it is at its best. The question was NOT one of withholding news but only of converting it into the time channel where the enemy could not benefit nor the government be embarrassed.

By not announcing Molotov's visit the government was saved thousands of dollars in extra guards; Molotov and his party were permitted freedom; and the enemy got the jolt of those conference decisions without any time to prepare offsetting propaganda.

He flew up to New York, wandered around Rockefeller Center and dropped in to see the movie at Radio City Music Hall.

When it became necessary for Steve Early, White House secretary, to account to the news and radio correspondents for the President's time, he said he was in conference with "Mr. Brown."

There wasn't a man or woman who didn't know whom he was talking about. There must have been thousands of people who knew that Molotov was in the United States and in Washington, but not once behind closed doors or out of them did I hear the subject discussed.

When it was all over, the Office of Censorship commended the press and radio, mentioning that in all the United States only one paper had even hinted at this on-your-honor secret.

36th Annual Commencement and Piano Tournament Highlight Conservatory Season

Rev. Harold Knappenberger, pastor of Grace Methodist church, whose son, Harold, Jr., has taken an active part in recent school and community musical affairs, will be guest speaker for the 36th annual commencement exercises of the Warren Conservatory of Music Wednesday evening.

Scheduled at 8:15 o'clock in the concert hall, the program is open to the public. Graduates of the regular course this year will be six piano students: Joyce Barnes, Clarendon; Dorothy Johnson, Creston, O.; Gene Parsons, Corry; Lola Secor, Jamestown, N. Y.; Arlyne McLaughlin and Ruth Simonsen, Warren. In addition, Meredith Young, of Warren, has completed the post-graduate course.

Besides delivering the commencement address, Rev. Knappenberger will offer the invocation and pronounce the benediction. Margaret C. Drivas, soprano, will be accompanied by Edith Haines Kuester for two vocal selections with which the piano program will be varied. She will sing "As When the Dove Laments Her Love" by Handel and "My Spirit Like a Shepherd Boy" by Russell.

Numbers to be offered by the young graduates are as follows: "Venetian and Neapolitan Tarantella" by Liszt, Miss Barnes; first movement of Sonata, Opus 53, by Schytte, Miss Johnson; "Voices of Spring," Strauss-Greif, Miss McLaughlin; first movement of Tchaikowski's B flat minor Concerto, Miss Parsons, with Naomi Johnson at the second piano; "Arabesque" and "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, Miss Young; first movement of Liszt's E flat Concerto, Miss Secor, with Elizabeth Danielson at the second piano.

Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell will present diplomas to the graduating class.

Preliminary to commencement exercises is the annual National Piano Playing Tournament being judged at the Conservatory today and tomorrow by Stanley Springer, well known Philadelphia musician, who gives a recital each season at the Academy, has had a broad experience as artist pianist and has been highly recommended for his judging activities. He will hear about 60 pupils of local and branch Conservatory teachers in the two days he is in town.

61st Anniversary Of Gene Parsons Gives Auxiliary Observed Senior Piano Recital

Featured by a musical cake that played "Happy Birthday" and governed by rules of deportment from a book of etiquette published in 1879, the 61st anniversary supper of the Second Auxiliary Missionary Society proved a great success on Friday evening, even though it was necessary to move indoors in the Presbyterian church.

The program followed in the parlors under the direction of Mrs. F. F. Hemminger and included a "Bouquet of Memories," assembled by placing of a flower for the name of each president since the organization in 1881. Later, this was presented to Mrs. J. W. Kitchen.

In an historical pageant, "From the Pages of Yesterday," Mrs. Gerald Wright impersonated Mrs. L. D. Wetmore, first president of the society and mother of E. D. Wetmore, of North Warren. Mrs. O. H. Baird was seen as an old time secretary, Mrs. Brown: Mrs. Agnes Sill as a charter member; Mrs. E. E. Koebly as the spirit of history; Mrs. George Calderwood as present day historian and Mrs. W. R. Carlin, present president, as presiding officer.

Members of the following living presidents were read, they offered greetings: Miss Mary Kopf, Mrs. F. W. Whitcomb, Mrs. W. H. Hegerty, Miss Kate Winger, Mrs. W. E. Lutz, Mrs. W. H. Allen, Mrs. J. L. Hunter, Mrs. M. A. Connelly, Mrs. George Daum and Mrs. Carlin.

high command announcement that a big Russian force had been pinched off below Leningrad with high losses in men and weapons and an official report of the second meeting between Adolf Hitler and Finnish Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustav Mannerheim shifted German attention today to the northern front.

A special high command communique yesterday said the Russians had lost all of one army, the Second, and parts of the 52nd and 59th armies on the Volkhov front 75 miles southeast of Leningrad. Soviet forces, it said, crossed the frozen Volkhov river north of Lake Ilmen last February and slashed a deep wedge into the German defenses.

Then a mixed Axis force launched a month-old counter operation in which, the communique added, it cut off the Soviets from behind, squeezed them closer and closer together and "today finally destroyed them."

Caffery Yields Four Hits As Forgers Take Home Opener

"Red" Hajnik Smashes 340-foot Home Run in 5-2 Win Over Geneva

With a perfect day for baseball the weatherman's gift to Business Manager Jimmy Kanne of the NFO Baseball Club for his patience the past three weekends, "Emmy" Morrison's baseball gang opened its home season yesterday with a 5-2 triumph over the Geneva Keystone Ordnance Works as "Pinky" Caffery tossed a four-hitter and his mates pounded three visiting slabs for 11 safeties over nine innings.

"Red" Hajnik had a field day with three hits in four times at bat and was the undisputed hitting star, pounding the ball over the right field fence, a distance of 340 feet, in the third inning for his fourth home run of the year. He has hit a round tripper in the Sunset League and two others at Loveland Park in Cory thus far. Three hits were responsible for two runs in the first inning for the Irvine clouters, and Geneva's starting hurler, Vander Walker, took an early exit without a man retired in the initial frame. McDonough stepped into the box to retire the side, but gave up single runs in the second, third and fifth innings, and finally was replaced by Rickenbrode, the only visiting delivery boy who could fool the Morrison men all afternoon.

Through the sixth, seventh and eighth innings, the Forge was able to get but one hit off Rickenbrode, and he retired the side in the eighth with a trio of strikeouts.

Geneva tallied in the third on two hits and a sacrifice bunt, and in the fourth on an error and a single, for their final count of two but after the fourth inning Caffery tossed no-hit, no-run ball and gave a good sized opening day crowd a real show for his money.

Besides whiffing seven batsmen and giving up only four hits, the Forge mound star contributed a pair of doubles and scored one run to help account for the decisive triumph, and to make his exhibition more outstanding, it is recalled that he tossed five innings of ball at Cory Friday night as the Cory Merchants trimmed the Jamestown Vikings, 12-4.

With new encouragement and ambition as a result of the blue skies yesterday, Business Manager Kanne began his work today of contacting a suitable opponent for this week-end, either for a Fourth of July fracas or a Sunday game. Details concerning his negotiations and the next game will be announced later this week.

OUTLOOK FOR BASS SEASON IS FAVORABLE

Harrisburg, June 29 (P)—Despite recent wet weather, the State Fish Commission today declared prospects good for the statewide bass season opening Wednesday.

"Streams generally throughout Pennsylvania are clearing rapidly following last week's rains," said the commission, "and that means good fishing."

The agency explained that bass, wall-eyed pike, pickerel and muskellunge, all of which become legal quarry on July 1, "are notably clear-water feeders, relying chiefly upon sight in taking their prey."

The commission has stocked streams with more than 570,000 bass ranging from one to 14 inches long, in the last year.

"Streams likely to rank as favorites this year," the commission asserted, "are the main Susquehanna river from Sunbury to the Maryland line, the Juniata river from Huntington to Amity Hall, the upper Delaware and the upper Allegheny rivers."

Just in case anglers want to set new records for this year they'll have these 1941 facts to beat:

The five-pound, 10 ounce and 21½-inch smallmouth bass caught in the Juniata river in Perry county.

The eight-pound, four-ounce and 22½-inch large mouth bass bagged in Quaker Lake, Susquehanna county.

The seven-pound, eight-ounce and 30-inch wall-eyed pike caught in the Delaware river.

The four-pound and 27 inch pickerel snared in Quaker Lake.

The 43-pound and 52-inch muskellunge caught in Lake LeBoeuf, Erie county.

Anyone who holds the National Forge ball club to three hits over the seven-inning route deserves a distinguished service medal, but a heart-breaking service medal, all of which become legal quarry on July 1, "are notably clear-water feeders, relying chiefly upon sight in taking their prey."

The former Kinzua High School finger tossed three hits in the first half of the game, and the Forgers won their fifth successive Sunset League ball game, 2-1, on Russell Field, and clinched first half honors.

Mike Solok parked a hit out into left field to open the fourth, and was safe at second as Eddie Burns hit into a fielder's choice but the play was too late to catch Solok. Then Morrison popped to Harold Brown at shortstop, and Harry Rosequist flied to "Rabbit" Swanson playing in center field.

But Swanson dropped the ball, threw it in to Dahler at second base, with runners on second and third.

The Hospital infield played in for a bunt, and Petrowski's boulder went through Brown at shortstop, Solok scorin, and Dahler, fielding the ball, threw it away as Burns plated the second and deciding run in the contest. Rosequist was nipped by Clawson trying to steal home, and Giegerich ended the inning, going out Brown to Massa, but the damage was done.

The Hospital scored its only marker in the sixth when Joe Massa walked, and Swanson singled him home after a passed ball helped him to second base. In the fifth, two walks and a single loaded the bases with one out for the Hospital, but DeRosia fanned and Murphy flied to center field to retire the side without a run.

Freddie Gagliardi gave up only four hits in winning the contest, but despite his fine performance, was the second best pitcher on the diamond. Errors cost the Swansons another ball game, the fourth they've kicked away this season.

Friday evening they scored a 6-5 decision over the Cory Merchants with Albie Lord hitting a home run, and yesterday afternoon, in a farewell contest for Sammy Rich, who leaves for the army shortly, they defeated the National Worsteds Mills team of Falconer, 8-2.

Bruno Salerno hit a home run with the bases empty and "Chippy" Zingone pounded out a circuit clout with the sacks full, the latter both coming in the eighth inning.

Rich, stellar shortstop of the Center team, has served the local club through the past three seasons with faithful and commendable play in the infield.

It was announced today, in addition to the results of the week-end contests, that the City Softball League will meet in the Times-Mirror editorial rooms Tuesday night to draw their second half schedule. The loop will be idle this week.

The only one of the nine major planets known to bear life is the earth on which we live.

Playing in the Women's Western Golf Association tournament at Cambridge Springs last week, Mrs. H. L. Banghart turned in a good account of her golfing ability, carrying off honors in the approaching and putting contest, despite the fact she finished behind the leader and winner in the actual tournament.

She had a gross score in the 36 holes of medal play of 190. This department apologizes for completely overlooking the 266 practice game score hung up at the Penn Bowling Center a week ago by Bob Hedberg, a youngster who graduated from WHS this year. It's the highest game yet rolled on the new slides. That golf match which we so cautiously proposed between the first five finishers in this year's county open and a chosen five, which this agent named, from the Coneywango Valley Country Club, attracted the interest of the latter quiffet and they are voicing their acceptance of any challenge if hurried their way by the tournament leaders, and they'd like to put on the match, for the benefit of the Red Cross or some other worthwhile organization, within the next few weeks.

Now all we need is the acceptance on the part of Vito Brindis, Joe Brindis, John Pawk, Chink Collins and Art Johnson to sponsor a golf match among the county's best par-busters that will top anything that's been staged on area links in quite a spell. It looks like this is a period of awakening for local sports. Bowling enjoyed its largest season in history and now golf is coming into its own in a bigger way than it has in a long long time. In addition, the community has baseball again, and the City Softball League is attracting considerable attention. Remarkable what a little pushing in the right direction can do.

Handling six additional chances in last Thursday night's game and five in the contest on Wednesday night, Jim Harding, Stonham first baseman, has now handled 36 consecutive chances without an error. That's a string to be proud of. "Red" Hajnik, Forge third baseman, is the only batter in the league to boast a hit of every kind. In his first game he batted a home run over the right field fence. In his second game he went hitless, but in his third contest he rapped out a double and triple. Also the claimant to five singles, he was absent for two contests and presently boasts a batting average of .571.

Another Stonham ball player who is doing a neat bit of fielding is Arnie Edmiston. He hasn't committed an error in five ball games and has had 21 chances. Such youngsters as Arnie, Harding, Craig Bennett and Gerould Velling, of Stonham; Arnie Olsen and Bill Martin, of the Eagles; Chuck Clawson, Monk Murphy and Harold Brown, of the Hospital, have the makings of really fine ball players with more experience. We pause to wonder where Bill Caffery would be today had there been a break such as the PONY League offers young players today when he was passing out of the teen-age class. "Pinky" has all the speed, dope and control of most major league southpaws and we're not so sure that isn't the class of ball he'd be playing today had opportunity knocked on his door at the right time.

season, and the second such loss in the loop.

The Hospital sees action tonight, and Wednesday in the league this week, against the Eagles and Stonham in that order, while the Eagles battle the Forge Friday night, ending the first half campaign.

The two Hospital skirmishes will give Swanson an opportunity to prepare his team for another meeting with Irvine as these clubs open the second half campaign a week from tonight.

Eagles and Hospital Scrap to Keep Out of Loop Cellar Tonight

Heafner Wins Ties Mark Set By Craig Woo

The National Forge nine already claims the first half crown in the Sunset League, but an interesting card is on deck this week purely in the respect of entertainment.

Tonight the State Hospital and Eagles get together in a contest to stay out of the loop basement, both teams having won one game and having lost three other starts.

The only Hospital victory came at the expense of the Flock in their first meeting a couple of weeks ago, while the Eagles finally overpowered Stonham in their third meeting with this club, and did it by the overwhelming count of 16-4 last week.

That score alone bearing out the fact that the Eagles have been building until now the club boasts of considerable batting power, serves sufficient notice that this evening's melee will be one worth the time and admission price which fans are obliged to surrender.

The Wednesday evening contest, in which Stonham and Hospital ball clubs and first half hostilities, has been moved back to Thursday night to allow the Swansons to play the Jamestown Monarchs on the North Warren grounds in a Wednesday evening twilight encounter.

Stonham can clinch second place with a victory at this point, and, on the other hand, the Hospital, if success is theirs tonight, will also be in a position to take the second berth in the circuit.

The Eagles and the Forge are scheduled to complete the first half program Friday evening, and this game also concludes the week's card.

The second half is slated to begin a week from today with the Hospital and Forge mixing in the opener, but if necessary, the opening contest and following games may be moved back three days, with the initial tilt being played Wednesday next week, should there be any games of the first half postponed this week by weather.

Tonight's Eagles-Hospital fracas is scheduled for 6:15 o'clock on Russell Field.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

Chapter Eight
Confession

JOYCE lit a cigarette and passed it to her. She sat down on the divan, far enough away so that she could curl one foot under her and watch her caller.

"Now," she said, "what is it all this?"

"I want to see Perry Clarke."

"Did?" the girl sucked hungrily on the cigarette and Joyce could see her hand trembling. "I've just come from there."

Joyce swallowed hard, her smoky-blue eyes troubled but steady.

"And what was that about being arrested?"

"Maybe I will be. I stole something."

"You stole something?"

"From his bedroom."

Joyce let her breath come out and made her voice patient and very calm. "Perhaps," she said, "could better start at the beginning."

"That would be last night, I suppose," Della said, and for the first time the excitement died in her voice. "It wasn't a quarrel, really, but I knew something was wrong."

"She paused and studied the end of her cigarette."

"I'd known, of course, that Ward had had some trouble in South America. He never told me what it was and I never asked him about it—or cared. He just mentioned once that he'd been in a jam. And other times, when someone would ask him about his experiences down there I could see a change come over him. It was nothing anyone else would notice; you couldn't really see anything different in him, but always, when we were going

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A part of the regular armament for a U. S. soldier is a .45-caliber automatic pistol which costs $65. So we need millions of these firearms to properly equip our army on the world's battle fronts.

Purchase of three series E War Bonds at $18.75 each, will more than pay for one of these modern weapons, so every person with an income should invest at least 10 percent in War Bonds every pay day. You can buy them at your Bank, Building & Loan Association, Postoffice and at many retail stores. Buy your share in America and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.

The British Houses of Parliament were about to be moved from the Thames river to one time. The Duke of Wellington, in 1840, proposed the proposal and pointed out that the buildings could never be surrounded by a mob if they were situated on the river.

USO has established twenty clubs or other units in Pennsylvania for the use of men of the armed services or industrial workers who lack proper recreational facilities, a current report of USO activities discloses. These USO units are located in Chester, Erie, Harrisburg, Lebanon, Middletown, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Wilkes-Barre. Of the twenty USO units in this state, five are conducted jointly or solely by the Young Men's Christian Association, five by the National Catholic Community Service and five by The National Travelers Aid Association, while the Jewish Welfare Board and the Young Women's Christian Association are each in charge of three units of operation.

Marines End Warren Stay This Evening

The United States Marines, traveling in the world's largest recruiting trailer, wind up their three day stand here in Warren late this evening.

Parked in the business section, the huge "office on wheels" has been visited by many local men, and according to First Sgt. Leon W. Little, non-commissioned officer in charge of the unit, "We've been able to give out a good bit of information to these inquirers and expect to hit our average of enlistments by the time we shove off this evening."

Age requirements for the Marine Corps now are 17-33 years of age for combat duty and 33-50 for special non-combatant duties. Saturday evening, the visiting Marines put on a two-hour show in front of the municipal building. Their program of sound movies showing the Marines in action was preceded by a concert by the Struthers-Wells Band, under the direction of John Frontera.

Warren is the last stop on the current leg of the Leathernecks' trip and they go next to the Buffalo area and tour through it for thirty days. In this section, they have covered Butler, Kittanning, Punxsutawney, Clearfield, Lock Haven, Williamsport, Ridgway, Oil City.

Said First Sgt. Little this morning, "Warren is one of the nicest towns we've hit since we've been on the road and we certainly hate to pull out this evening."

Little, a veteran of over thirty years in the Marine Corps, has traveled all over the world and all over the U. S. and during World War I went through five major engagements and was decorated for bravery by Marshal Petain.

APPRECIATION

The members of the committee in charge of the local retailers for Victory drive today expressed their appreciation to those who assisted with the rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, particularly to Kirberger Jewelers, the Boy Scouts, American Legion Auxiliary and all merchants who contributed merchandise.

Special events will be held by local merchants to celebrate the Retailers for Victory event.

Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today made public the official War Bond Quotas by States for the month of July, which places the nation on a billion-dollar-a-month basis to aid in meeting the War cost. The above table also gives May War Bond sales in comparison to the May Quotas. (June sales by states will be available for publication shortly.) The percentage of Quotas range from 71.3 percent above quota in Utah, to 22.6 percent below the quota in Montana, but puts the nation as a whole above the $600,000,000 total May quota. Vulnerable Alaska and Hawaii led all states in sale of War Bonds on quota basis.

"Everybody, every pay day ten percent" is the Treasury slogan which is expected to place one of the attractive new window stickers in every American home. "We're Buying at Least 10%," reads the sticker, printed in the national colors. The new window stickers and the new "10%" label button, which indicates that the wearer is investing at least ten percent of his income in War Bonds every pay day, are yardsticks of patriotism in the War Bond Drive.
